

107th Annual Conference Speakers

Friday, April 26, 2019

Dr. Patrick Gentempo: Think! 11am-12:30pm | Lunch & Learn

This inspired presentation is a Tour de Force capturing the chain of thinking that assembles the intellectual basis for the unique and powerful service that is Chiropractic. Dr. Gentempo will review the significant body of research published in recent years related to varying fields of science such as epigenetics, neuroscience, and related clinical case studies. Your certainty and excitement for chiropractic will skyrocket.

Dr. Patrick Gentempo & Dr. Jay Greenstein: Panel Discussion 5pm-6pm

Saturday, April 27, 2019

Dr. Jay Greenstein: Building Your Practice Through Evidence

In today's healthcare environment there is more data and research than ever that supports chiropractic care. This course will teach doctors of chiropractic how to use the latest research evidence to educate their patients, to communicate medical necessity payers, ensure coordinated care with healthcare providers, and improve safety and patient compliance. If you want to create even greater impact for your community, this is a go-to course.

Sunday, April 28, 2019

Dr. Jeff Langmaid: Interdisciplinary Communication & Research

This dynamic course will give attendees the confidence, knowledge and skills necessary to build referral relationships with other healthcare providers in their communities.